

Privacy policy of m-tec mathis technik GmbH

We raise, store and use your personal data only according to the legal regulations of the German Data Protection Act (Bundesdatenschutzgesetz der Bundesrepublik Deutschland). In the following, you will find a short description of our maxims on how to protect your personal rights.

Our privacy policy applies to all websites within the responsibility of m-tec mathis technik gmbh. However, our websites may contain links to information provided by others which is not covered by this policy.

Personal data shall mean any information concerning the personal or material circumstances of an identified or identifiable natural person such as name, phone number or e-mail address.

Visitors of our websites must never disclose any personal data. At some points, we gather non-personal information on you, as to the used browser and operating system and the visited pages.

The information is used for statistical purposes and for the continual improvement of our services. Your identity will, however, not be disclosed.

Personal data will only be requested if you state them actively and of your own free will – e.g. when filling in our contact form.

In accordance with the currently applicable regulations on the protection of personal data, all personal data gathered during the visit of our website will only be collected, processed, and used for the purpose of the requested services and the processing of your requests.

We will not hand out any of your personal data to third parties without your explicit consent unless we are legally obligated to do so, especially to law enforcement agencies.

You can revoke this consent at any time with effect for the future.

This website uses Google Analytics, a web analysis service of Google Inc. (“Google”).

Google Analytics uses so-called “cookies”, which are text files that are stored on your computer and that allow analysis of your use of the website. The information on your use of this website generated by the cookie is transmitted to a server of Google in the USA and stored there.

The use of anonymous IP addresses is enabled on this website. Your IP address will be truncated beforehand by Google within a member state of the European Union and in other countries which are contracting parties of the Agreement on the European Economic Area. On behalf of the operator of this website, Google uses this information to evaluate your use of the website in order to provide reports of the website activities and provide the operator of this website with other services relating to website activity and internet usage. The IP address of your browser transmitted by Google Analytics is not combined with any other data from Google. You can prevent the installation of cookies by configuring your browser software accordingly. Furthermore, you can prevent the collection and transmission of the personal data collected by the cookies relating to your use of the website

(including your IP address) to Google as well as the processing of this data by Google by downloading and installing the browser plugin available from the following link (<http://tools.google.com/dlpage/gaoptout>).

For more information, see tools.google.com/dlpage/gaoptout or www.google.de/intl/en-GB/policies/privacy/ (general information about Google Analytics and data protection). We would like to point out that Google Analytics has been enhanced on this web page with the “gat._anonymizeIp();” code in order to ensure that IP addresses are entered anonymised (known as IP masking).
